

THE KNIGHTS TEMPLARS.

A Jolly Time in "Frisco"—As High as Hades—Women and Children Fainting and Men Suffocating.

San Francisco, August 19.—Even the weather is doing its best to make the Eastern Knights feel at home. The thermometer this morning was at 77, with the prospect of a further rise. The procession will form to-morrow; religious services this afternoon. In the pavilion there was a terrible crush, for many almost vital. Eight thousand were in the building and four thousand left on the outside, who continued to put forth every effort to obtain entrance. Although a large police force was present, they were unable to control the crowd. The greater number of the officers have been employed in carrying off fainting women and children. It was so hot before the services were halved that the people commenced streaming out, only to make room for others to get in. Expressions of thanks were repeatedly heard from those who managed to get out at not being crushed to death. This was due to the mismanagement of the committee, who permitted twice too many tickets to be issued. The scene inside was imposing, the floor of the pavilion being a mass of handsome uniform and flowing plumes. The exercises were conducted on the usual Knights Templar order, opening with the hymn "Onward, Christian soldiers," rendered in such grand style as to quicken the pulse of all who heard it. The services terminated at five o'clock, each commander seeking its own headquarters.

FOREIGN.

An Appeal to Be Made in America to Help Irish Emigration.

ENGLAND.

IRISH EMIGRATION—THE COMMONS.

London, August 19.—It is probable an Irish bishop will go to America to raise money to supplement the fifty thousand pounds set apart by the Irish tramways bill for emigration in Ireland.

The house of commons continued in session until 2:30 Sunday morning. The supply bill was finished, and the Irish tramways bill passed its third reading. The government assures Parnell and his followers that only fifty thousand pounds will be devoted to emigration purposes. The debate was very bitter throughout. In addition to Biggar, Collar and Newgate were called to order by the chairman.

TONQUIN.

BOMBARDMENT OF HUE—A FRENCH WARNING.

Paris, August 19.—It is affirmed that the bombardment of Hue by the French was begun Saturday. Admiral Peyron, minister of Marine and of the colonies constructed for Tonquin, stated that the French have informed the powers that any ships attempting to land arms in Annam will be liable to seizure. It is believed this is a warning especially leveled at the large exports of arms from American ports.

FRANCE.

CHAMBERLAIN'S CONDITION.

Paris, August 19.—Count De Chamberlain remains very weak. His brain is disturbed at intervals.

SPAIN.

KING ALFONSO.

Madrid, August 19.—King Alfonso was warmly welcomed at Valencia. He was loudly cheered by crowds of people along the railway routes from Madrid. He attended a Te Deum at the cathedral, and reviewed the troops. He goes to Barcelona Monday.

Madrid, August 19.—Quiet having been restored throughout Spain, the various bodies of constitutionalists engaged in quelling the recent uprising will return to their former stations. Provincial officials are actively inquiring into the cause of the rebellion. Documents found on insurgents who belonged to the Northern army show that a Masonic society has been influencing the army since 1877. Among the documents is a circular issued by a junta from Paris on the occasion of the formation of the dynastic left, setting forth every contingency likely to arise. It was intended that the first movement should be made in 1878, and another in 1881. King Alfonso was visited to-day in state, by deputies of a Conservative club. Replying to their address, he said no deputation could be more agreeable to him, as they were members of a club which was formed not because he had ascended the throne, but in order that he should ascend it. The governor of Paterna, in introducing to the king a deputation of rice growers, protested against the recent rising. The king in reply said the loyalty of the working classes had mitigated the grief which the rising had caused him. He would do his utmost to make Spain great and prosperous. Every party except the advanced faction, participated in the cordial reception tendered the king.

EGYPT.

DEATHS IN ALEXANDRIA.

London, August 19.—Thirty-two persons died from cholera in Alexandria Saturday, including one British soldier.

TOTAL CHOLERA DEATHS.

London, August 19.—Deaths from cholera in Egypt Saturday 310, including five at Cairo. Another death from cholera has occurred at Beyrout, Syria.

A MYSTERY OF THE SEA.

A Schooner Carrying a Black Flag Run Down and Sunk by a Steamer.

Atlantic City, N. J., August 19.—The unknown schooner reported Sunday off Beach Haven, Long Branch, Friday evening is an affair surrounded with a great deal of mystery. She was of about 300 tons burden and was said to have been pursued by a steamer. Report says that both vessels were putting in shore under full sail and steam, and when about five miles out the schooner suddenly sank and all on board were supposed to be lost. The steamer remained at the spot where the schooner had sunk for half an hour and then steamed away eastward and out to sea. The schooner is said to have carried a black flag.

SHEEP KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

New York, August 19.—During a storm early to-day lightning killed forty sheep and severely injured twenty others on the Stewart farm near Garden City, Long Island.

THE TELEGRAPHERS.

Congratulations of President Green on the Victory over the Strikers.

New York, August 19.—Dr. Morvin Green, president of the Western Union Telegraph Company arrived home to-day on the steamship Alaska. Dr. Green received a cordial welcome from many personal friends and the officers of the Western Union Telegraph Company. After a short talk with General Eckert, the acting president, Dr. Green expressed himself well pleased that the strike of the operators had been brought to a close, and in hearty terms thanked General Eckert, Superintendent Tucker and Superintendent Humstone and the officers of the company for their management of the troublous question.

New York, August 19.—At a meeting of Central Labor Union to-day it was resolved to aid the striking operators still unemployed. There was an excursion of operators to-day up the Hudson. It was arranged by the employees of the American Rapid Telegraph Company, and the proceeds will be given to their brother strikers who have failed to obtain employment.

JUDGE JERE BLACK.

Passed Beyond the Valley and Shadow of Death—The Closing Scene of a Long Life.

York, Pa., August 19.—Judge Jeremiah Black died at ten minutes past two o'clock this morning. Though not unexpected, his death was sudden and was a shock to the community. On Saturday morning he seemed somewhat better, but the improvement was too slight to justify hope of recovery. The unfavorable change began about four o'clock p. m., and he gradually grew worse, but remained conscious almost to the end and died peacefully. From the beginning of his illness Judge Black believed he would never recover, and was perfectly resigned. Mrs. Judge Black, Lieutenant-Governor Chauncey J. Black and wife, Henry Black, Mr. and Mrs. Hornsby, A. Farquhar and Dr. Meslinde were present. Many telegrams of condolence have been received. The funeral will take place Tuesday at 5 p. m. His remains will be interred at Prospect Hill cemetery. Dr. Powers of the Christian church of Washington will probably officiate at the funeral. Shortly before Judge Black died he said to his wife: "How can I fear to cross the dark river when my father waits for me on the other shore?" and added, "We are as comfortable about all I leave behind as I am in this world," and then breathed the following earnest prayer: "O Thou, beloved and most merciful Heavenly Father, from whom I have my being and in whom I have ever trusted; if it be Thy will, grant that my sufferings end and that I speedily be called home to Thee; and oh, bless and comfort thee, my Mary."

WACO.

Sunday in the Central City—Personal and Minor News Notes.

Reported for the Gazette.

Waco, August 19.—Mr. S. A. Reed of Marlin was in the city to-day. He left this evening for the Panhandle.

Mr. Charley Smith, chief salesman of Cleveland & Cameron, has returned from his week of rest and recreation on the Bosque.

Mr. John B. Willis of the drug firm of Tucker and Willis, left this morning for Western Texas, in the interest of their ant and prairie dog exterminator.

Mr. W. P. Riviere left this morning for a trip to Cisco, Abilene and other towns West.

Mr. L. J. Cohen left this evening for a trip north, but it is more than likely he will not go further than Fort Worth. The boys say he provided himself with six linen handkerchiefs and two wet towels. However, there is not much in that.

The returns from the polling precincts of this county show a majority for all the amendments except No. 5, which is defeated. L. J. Granberry for public weigher is elected by about 800 majority.

Rev. Geo. T. Gould, D. D., president of the Millersburg Female College, Ky., preached at the Fifth street Methodist church this morning to a rather small audience. The pastor, Doctor Mackey, apologized for the smallness of the audience, on the ground that it was not announced in the morning paper that Mr. Gould would preach. The distinguished gentleman preached at the same place again to-night on the "Truth of the Christian Scriptures in the Light of Modern Learning." His subject this morning was "The Power and Influence of the Christian Church." He handled his subjects in a clear and logical manner, stating his propositions clearly and distinctly.

Mr. J. W. Castles of the wholesale and retail drug firm of Castles, Morrison & Co. left this afternoon for New York and other points East in the interest of his house.

Prof. O. A. Habel has been solicited to give a concert here one night this week. With his popularity and extraordinary skill as a performer on piano, we make no doubt but he would have a large and appreciative audience to witness his performances.

Mr. Pat Calhoun left for the Fort this evening.

An ordinance of the city forbids the sale of intoxicating liquors in a theatre building, and also forbids the dressing of performers in an indecent or partially nude state. A number of the "Horse Shoe" folks were scooped in last night for violation of the ordinance.

Miss Fannie Munch left this evening for her home in New York.

The sheriff of Gonzales county, D. C. Price, arrived here to-day with Sam Hester, charged with theft of sheep and cattle in Gonzales county, and arrested at Corsicana yesterday. He was placed in jail here for safe keeping till to-morrow morning when he will be conveyed to Gonzales.

Mr. J. J. Reese, Captain Lloyd and Dr. Moore, state medical director of the Knights of Honor, of the Fort, paid Waco a visit this morning and returned on the evening Missouri Pacific train.

Mr. A. M. Eastland, local reporter for the GAZETTE at Hillboro, spent the day with friends in Waco to-day and returned on the evening train.

Mr. R. B. Weaver, the goodlooking traveling man of the grocery firm of May & Vaught, of New Orleans, left this morning for the Fort.

BANDOLA'S DEATH.

Further Details of the Recent Apache Attacks.

[Tombstone (A. T.) Epitaph.] W. C. Green, who arrived Thursday evening from Bassachuen, Sonora, brings the startling intelligence that Col. Bandola, of the 23d Mexican regulars, commanding forces operating against the Indians, was killed on the 24 inst. by our San Carlos pets. The news was brought to Green's camp by six Mexicans, who came from Oposura, and was confirmed by Mexican custom house officers at San Pedro, who claimed to have received particulars direct. It seems that about August 1st

A BAND OF THIRTY APACHES

made an attack upon Oporto and killed four men. Col. Bandola, who was at Hualar with sixty of his regiment, upon receipt of the information, started immediately for the scene of the murders. In going through a canyon Col. Bandola, who is represented as a bold and fearless man, was riding some distance ahead of his command in company with two men, when they were fired upon from an ambush and the colonel fell, two bullets piercing his breast and killing him almost instantly. His companions escaping by flight. The troops came up, but the savages had disappeared. The next day three Mexicans were killed in the neighborhood, and on the following day twenty-three horses were stolen from a band which George Woodward and Charley Woods were bringing up to stock their ranch on the line. One of the boys shot and killed an Indian. This information is furnished the Epitaph by a trustworthy man, and is believed to be reliable. The Apaches are moving south in the direction of the Mazatan mountains. Mr. Green represents that portion of Sonora as being in a more deplorable condition than any time the past year, the people being paralyzed with fright, and the Indians raiding through the country at will. The denunciations of Crook and his policy are not only loud, but deep. He has taken thirty squaws and old men and children back to San Carlos, leaving their warriors foot-loose and in better trim than ever. Now it will take the united Mexican and United States armies to capture them.

A MARE'S NEST.

[N. Y. Times.]

There is an honest earnestness of effort on the part of the Galveston News to present an expectant public a truthful statement of Mexican affairs that would be highly creditable were it not so strikingly unfortunate in its results. A month ago the News manufactured an assault upon the American Eagle, demanding immediate warlike redress, out of a very commonplace little burglary of the house of the American consul at Monterey. Pleased with the commotion that followed this presentment of alleged facts—a commotion especially conspicuous among our esteemed southern contemporaries—the Galveston newspaper now has made a bolder sally and has fallen about not only of abstract fact but of fact geographical. This time the Laredo correspondent of the News telegraphs: "A report comes direct from Queretaro, Mexico, which is about 100 miles south of Laredo, that Cortino was in that place last Tuesday with 300 revolutionists." The correspondent cheerfully adds that "from reliable reports it is probable that the northern states of Mexico will be in revolution before the year is out." Now a sad, and rather triangular, quarrel upon the pleasant excitement of this promised revolutionary outbreak is found in these three several certainties: That Queretaro is not about 100 miles south of Laredo, but is a round 500 miles south of Laredo as the crow flies; that if the correspondent alleged to be at Laredo did not know this much of the geography of Mexico he could not decently be expected to know a very great deal of Mexican revolutions; that, inasmuch as Queretaro is less than a day's run by rail from the City of Mexico, the announcement of the appearance of Cortina and his 300 revolutionists would have come to the United States direct by telegraph from the Mexican capital rather than have gone about over five hundred miles of rough country, there to be received by the waiting special commissioner of the Galveston News. If the other reliable reports which bid us look out for a revolution in Mexico are the pomegranates blossom again are of a piece with the report here presented, the danger probably is not so imminent but that there will be time to roll a cigarette or two before it begins.

"Yes," said an officer of the Canada, in speaking of Prince George of Wales, "we like the prince very well. He conducts himself just like one of ourselves. Oh, no, he is not stuck up at all. He is treated by all on board just like any other middy. Nobody makes any difference because he happens to be the Prince of Wales's son. And he does not act any differently himself. He is pretty lively, and enjoys a lark as well as any of us. He has his duty as well as he can be expected. But I don't think he cares much about his work; not any more than other boys of his age do; of course, he's only a boy yet, and has not entered upon life seriously. He was tattooed on the arm while he was on the Baccante. He gets on well with the officers and is pretty well liked by the men. Oh, no, we don't make any fuss over him when entering a port, nor is he paid honors. He is not sailing in his capacity or position as prince, but as a middy."

William H. Vanderbilt did a graceful and generous thing in handing his check for $5,000 to the proprietor of a hotel in the White Mountains to be distributed among the thirty college boys who are acting as waiters there. This is one of the ways adopted by poor young men in New England colleges to make a little money for the following year at the same time that they are getting the benefit of a vacation. It is not an easy part to play—that of gentleman and scholar and waiter at the same time; and, indeed, a great many young men would rather not try it. But Mr. Vanderbilt's gift was prompted, it is said, by the self-reliant spirit and gentlemanly bearing of these young men. This is a proof that they were highly successful in this difficult role, and is a remarkable compliment.

DEVILED CRABS JUST RECEIVED AT SPENCER &amp; TUCKER'S.

Half dozen shells with each can to bake it with.

CLEBURNE.

The New Episcopal Church—Ob service of the Sunday Law—Personal.

Special to the Gazette.

Cleburne, August 19.—The work of improving and remodeling the Episcopal church will begin to-morrow. The members of the church have been engaged in collecting funds for this purpose for some time past, and it is proposed to make it a very handsome building.

Mr. E. G. Senter, of the GAZETTE, was in the city this morning and was warmly greeted by his numerous friends.

Mrs. Tilman Fowler, the wife of one of Cleburne's wealthiest and most respected citizens, returned to-day from a trip in the country.

The Sunday law was strictly observed here to-day, and the churches were all well attended.

Fred Brown of the Santa Fe road has been transferred from the main line to the Dallas branch, and is wrestling with baggage on that run. His friends in Cleburne welcome the change.

Rain badly needed.

Among the latest arrivals at the Cleburne House are the following: Z. E. Law and wife, Detroit; R. E. Simpson, New York; Rufus Choate, St. Louis; W. A. Cauley, Montgomery, Ala.; H. J. Henderson, Jr., N. Sparks, Nashville, Tenn.; Geo. Wilson, St. Louis; E. G. Senter, T. A. Stoneman, Fort Worth; Sam Thurston, San Antonio; Jake Solomon, Austin; C. W. Fox and wife, Dallas; E. F. Williams, St. Louis; J. B. Hatch and child, Dallas; M. Miller and children, Lampasas.

COLORADO.

Fatal Affray at a Ball—Sam Caesar Shot and Killed.

Special to the Gazette.

Colorado, August 19.—During the progress of a ball given by the colored folks at Phoenix park last evening, Wade Hudson and Sam Caesar became involved in a quarrel. Both drew their pistols and fired, Caesar receiving a fatal wound in the abdomen, from the effect of which he died shortly afterwards. Hudson was unhurt, and is now lodged in jail.

THE PRESIDENT'S PARTY.

Another Day's March—Camp Life With Rod, Line and Gun.

Camp Arthur, Grosventre River, Wyoming, August 19.—At 6:30 this morning the president and party mounted their horses and started from camp Isham. They marched down the valley of the Grosventre river, crossing that stream to the north side about ten miles from our camp of last night, thence trailed away from the river through the canyon and over mountains of considerable elevation, although the grades were not very steep. After marching about fifteen miles the party arrived at a low mesa on the river, which was so attractive that the whole party voted we should remain here to-night. In honor of the president, Gen. Sheridan has called it Camp Arthur. Shortly after our arrival, rods and fishing-tackle were put in shape and the party went fishing. Gen. Stager made the largest catch; Senator Vest second, and the president third. Capt. Clark came in this evening from a two day's hunt after elk and bear. He had but little success. All the party are well, and enjoying the fishing, hunting and mountain air with the keenest zest.

SLADE-MITCHELL.

The Coming Prize Fight—When and Where It Will Come Off.

Kansas City, August 19.—Col. John S. Bishop, one of the managers of the Slade-Mitchell prize fight, stated to a reporter this evening that there was no foundation for the report that the fight will occur at Vinia, I. T. He said the location had been settled, but at present it is known only to Mitchell, Madden and himself, and further that the fight will occur on the 11th of September and not a day before. The current opinion here is that the spot chosen is within a comparatively short distance of the city, but this is almost entirely conjecture. Slade is now at Independence, six miles from here, and Mitchell is at Shawnee, Mo., just across the Kansas line. Both are in splendid condition and actively engaged.

ALASKA MINES.

Rich Gold Discoveries on the Yupon River—A Cold Snap for July.

San Francisco, August 19.—The Bulletin published a letter brought down on the steamer Saint Paul from Oron, Alaska, which arrived this evening, announcing a large gold discovery near Yupon river, Alaska. Owing to the extreme cold weather, twenty-eight degrees below zero, it was impossible to do much prospecting. The miners who made the discovery were partly fitted out by E. Schellin, who made the discovery in Arizona, and who cleared over a million dollars in that section.

FRANK JAMES.

THE OF THE BANDIT OPENS AT GALLATIN TO-DAY.

Edward Pollard of Governor Crittenden's Probable Lack of Evidence to Convict—How It Happened.

St. Louis, Mo., August 19.—The trial of Frank James for the Winston robbery begins at Gallatin to-day. Gov. Crittenden occupies the position in regard to the case. He is to be a witness for the prosecution. The extraordinary measures taken to break up the governor's camp, his negotiations with Jesse James, who furnished the necessary position in regard to the case, and with Bob and William, who assassinated Jesse James, and the subsequent pardon of them, have been the subject of many chapters fresh in the memory of those who read the story. It is a young man to be a witness for the defense leads to considerable more desperate efforts to break up the governor's camp. Circuit Judge Taylor, who has an idea that the trial will be a national spectacle, is preparing the conviction of the bandit.

Frank James, of Clay county, Missouri, leaves and earth to prove his innocence; a number of officials in the western counties, equally bent on making a case out of the trial, are equally bent on making a case out of the trial.

It was through the influence of these officials that the counsel of Dick Liddell of the Missouri bar in Alabama was secured.

Frank James surrendered it through many that he had a case of pardon from the governor, but he had not, he is too sure to rely much on it, for he knew that the governor's term is at an end. The outlaw was evidently well convinced that evidence against him could not be obtained. He professed to be willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard it hard to prove anything against him. Dick Liddell, however, would not. In fact, he made him fraudulent. The case was made against him in the United States court. Then, after he saw himself from a long and arduous journey, he was willing to stand trial for any of the crimes charged against him. The state's officials had heard